Watch Assembly Factory
Watch Service-Center

The zeittechnik fink Center was founded in 2003 as an independent company. Its core activity is the assembly of watches as a subcontractor. An integrated fulfillment center as well as a highly efficient after-sales service center (A.S.S.) for various famous Swiss watch brands complete the range of our operation.

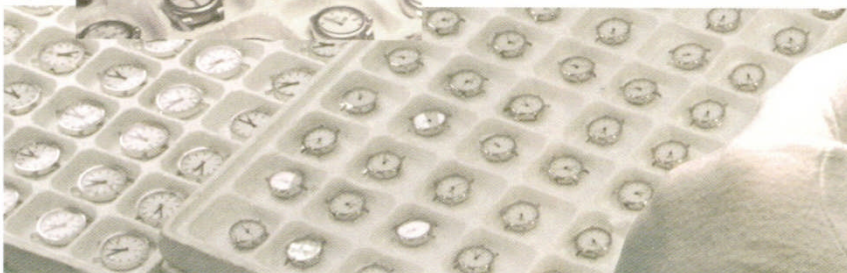

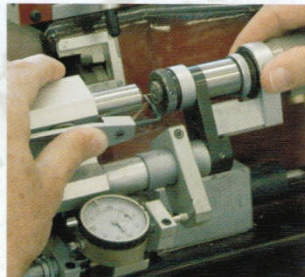

Repair Service Center

Our know-how in combination with the high-end level equipment of our facility ensures an efficient and professional repair as well as a rigorous quality and accuracy control of all kinds of timepieces, starting from a battery exchange on a simple quartz watch up to reconditioning of most complicated mechanical specialties, such as automatic chronographs, Bicompax, Tricompax, Rattrapante and more.

Specialties

Automatic chronographs
Bicompax
Tricompax
Rattrapante etc.

Stock-keeping

Storage of your watch components and completed watches in our premises and their management can be arranged.

Formalities

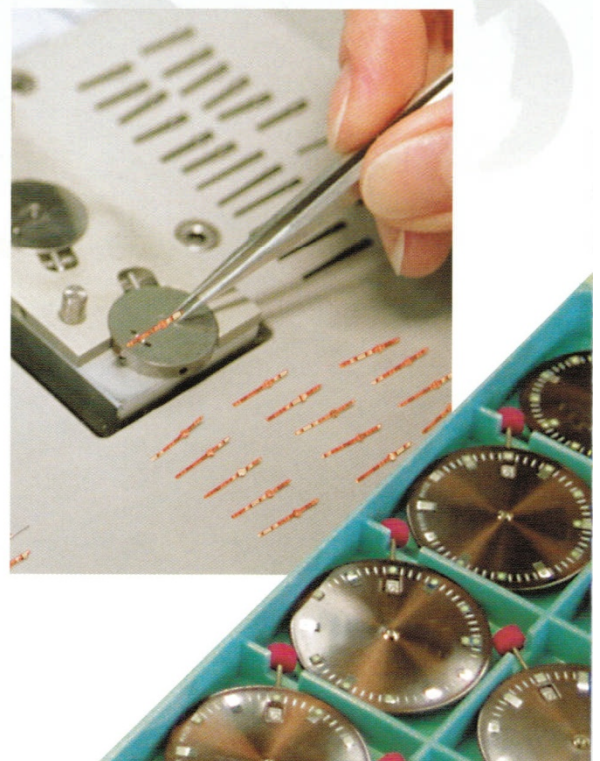

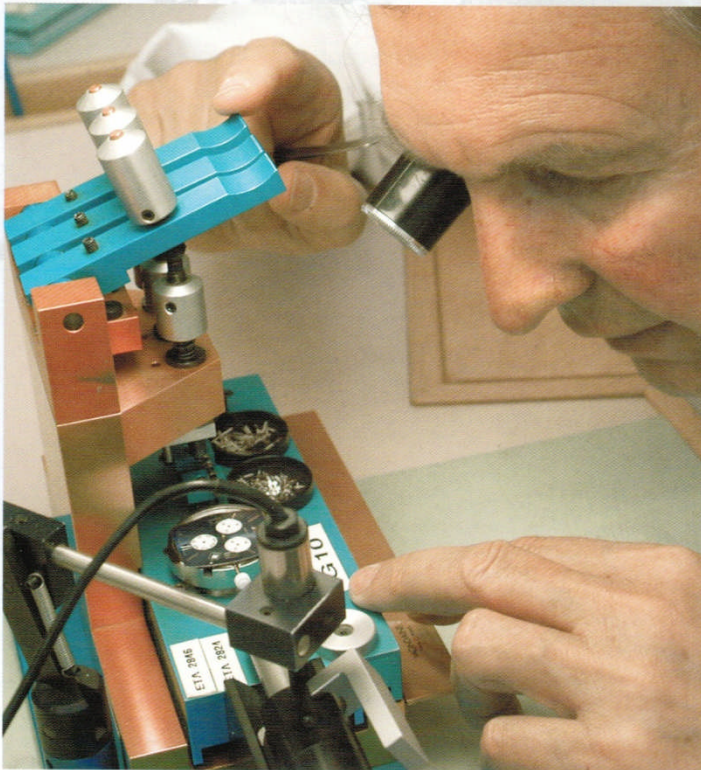

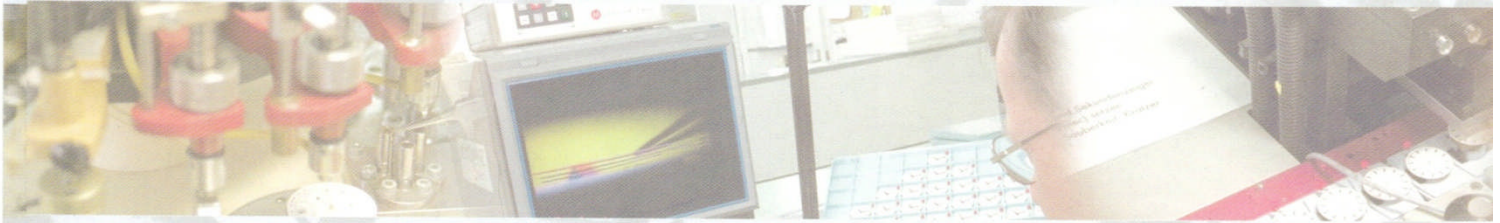

Our team is ready to give you any support as to what questions regarding customs regulations, certificates of origin, control of precious metals, transportation and logistics is concerned.

Dispatching

If desired, we can deliver your watches in bulk or individually packed, labeled, priced, ready-made directly to your customers/distributors.

Quality control

Upon desire, all the incoming watch components will undergo a rigorous quality control (I.Q.C.) before assembly. It goes without saying that every watch is individually tested before leaving our factory with regard to its accuracy, visual aspects water-tightness and built-in materials.

Quality assurance

In order to comply with highest quality requirements, dials and hands are set by means of the most recent hand-setting machines.

Before delivery, all the watches are subject to a 24/48 hours function and accuracy control and, their water resistance is controlled to a maximum of 10 atm.

The experience of many years of our team and its expertness in watch production, quality assurance and after-sales service make a professional watch assembly at competitive prices.

Our team consists of highly qualified watchmakers with comprehensive professional skill and expertise.
